- . Wedding Imperial- A song of praise to love. This glamorous blend is steeped in the passion that weds the malty power of golden Assam tea leaves to the sweetness of notes of chocolate and caramel perfect clarity. Evidence of an unsurpassed marriage.

GREEN TEA

- . China Gunpowder Temple of Heaven- Sea captains ferrying precious cargoes back to the West dubbed this granular tea Gunpowder, in reference to that common tool of warfare. This tumble-fired Chinese classic comes in many grades, the finest of which is Temple of Heaven. The choicest leaves and buds make the smallest “pellets,” which render an olive colored cup when brewed, slightly sweet and strikingly nutty. A second infusion is usually possible.
- . Nilgiri Blue Mountain- An enchanting result of the last expedition to the Nilgiris. Hand-made green tea from Coonoor, the center of tea cultivation in the "Blue Mountains." Mild but full-bodied, slightly sweet, fine leaf similar to Lung Ching, and a bright yellow cup.

AROMATIC GREEN TEA

- . Earl Grey Royal- The Earl goes Green. The bright, familiar taste of the Bergamot Orange on a green tea base. A slight variation on a tea classic
- . Earl Grey Sencha- A green Chinese tea with a subtle fragrance of bergamot. If you love Earl Grey but need to drink less caffeine, this sencha tea will be perfect for you.
- . Jasmine Green- A sweet, aromatic Chinese Green Tea traditionally scented with Jasmine petals. The light, smooth brew has been enjoyed for centuries and continues to be a favorite.
- . Mandarin Orange Sencha- A tropical twist on this healthy alternative to soda and sugary fruit juices. We use a Chinese sencha leaf, and mandarin orange essence flavor, safflower petals, and orange pieces to create this tangy vibrant brew. Terrific hot and iced.
- . Peaches 'N Cream- Mouthwatering peaches and velvety vanilla deliver a smooth cup that is full-bodied and sweet.
- . Ceremony- The intensities of sweet raspberry and sour rhubarb tamed by fine vanilla

- . Freear's Hope-

WHITE TEA

- . China White Fancy Peony- An inspiring "New Style" Chinese White Tea hailing from Fuding county in Fujian Province. Created by a fine plucking of the bud and first leaf in late March or early April, first grade Pai Mu Tan (or White Peony) is distinguished by its high count of silver downy buds. A pale blonde infusion reveals the slightest astringency and subtle acidity with clean notes of chestnut, honey and white flowers.

- . Coconut White Tea- Generous shavings of coconut add a succulent woody element to this soft white tea. Excellent hot or iced.
- . Mutan- An excellent introduction to rare white tea. This less expensive white tea has an abundance of silvery white buds and green leaves.
- . Strawberry White Tea- A teashop favorite. The aroma of ripe summer strawberries and the finest White Tea from India combine for a new but familiar treat. Excellent hot and a customer favorite when iced.
- . Snow Flake- The warming aroma of vanilla sugar cookies with almonds slivers and just a hint of lemon.

OOLONG TEA

- . Hazelnut Brittle- Creamy hazelnut and vanilla give warm rhythm to this customer favorite.
- . Formosa Oolong- This is a great oolong. The plant protects itself by creating a compound that has a great peachy aroma, maybe better than any other oolong. It is absolutely delicious.
